Reciprocal Licensees («RECIP_ST») – CE Reporting Changes

The Board realizes that many states are renewing in different renewal cycles. Beginning with Kentucky's June 2006 renewal, a Kentucky reciprocal licensee from Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Indiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia, or Wisconsin will not be required to submit proof of CE to renew. Thus, the licensee whose home jurisdiction requires CE will only submit the renewal form, renewal fee and a letter of good standing / license verification from his/her home state to the KY Board of Auctioneers.

The Kentucky reciprocal licensee, whose home jurisdiction does not have a continuing education reporting requirement, must meet Kentucky's requirements. This reciprocal licensee will submit the renewal form, the renewal fee, a letter of good standing from his/her home state, and proof of completion of six hours of continuing education earned from July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2006.

Kentucky Auctioneers Association Convention
February 11-13, 2006

With a nominal registration fee for the entire convention, additional seminars and business information and auction activities are available. While the KBA cannot promote or endorse private organizations, at the same time the Board recognizes that a professional organization such as KAA offers many services to its members, such as sample contracts, auction advertising on their website, the "Chanticleer".

The Board welcomes KAA's new Executive Director Charles Whitley. Phone: 270-782-2773. Email: kaa@charleswhitley.com

Monday Seminars Open to All Licensees

Seminar Registration Fee Not Required

February 13, 2006

Holiday Inn – Capitol Plaza Hotel, 405 Wilkinson Blvd., Frankfort

Two 3-hr seminar sessions, Eastern Time

9:00 AM speaker Dennis Jackson "Fine Art at Auction"

1:00 PM speaker Joseph Gribbins "Auction Law Review"

KBA 2005 – 2006 DIRECTORY

Now published on the Board's website, <http://auctioneers.ky.gov> under publications. Due to the increasing expense of printing and mailing, the Directory will not be printed and mailed to all licensees this year. A licensee, who cannot retrieve a copy of the Directory from our website, may call and request a copy. Please note: copies will not be bound as a book, but a stapled copy.
